Brawlers, it is finally time to come up with a real name for down throw thrupper. Not only is it too long, but I also get a cramp in my tounge trying to pronounce thrupper (yes blame my language).

Give me your best naming ideas! It can be funny, catchy, logical, whatever!

This marks the complete removal of Yoshi's Story and Unova from use in Australia with the standard sation toward character first before every game and a 7 minute timer

From my perspective (someone who only runs one moveset lol) this ruleset would be a straight upgrade: no YS, and I know for sure what character my opponent's using prior to picking stage.

I can definitely understand how this would be bad for multi-moveset Brawlers tho

Hmmm
I guess, with Yoshis gone and with characters picked before stages, can an opponent force you to go to a bad stage with this ruleset as Brawler? I can't see any stages being truly awful for SAK/HK... I don't think Thrupper can be forced to FD/Town either right?

Luc doesn't die unless killconfirmed, and kills off of stray hits
Brawler and Puff just delete each other Kirby deletes/cheeses Brawler (although shotput may help with that)

a) Thrupper comes out and moves so fast/is so small that it may well just not hit them
b) Even if it does hit them it may very well not kill due to being grounded thrupper

Went to my first offline tourney tonight in more than a year and a half.
Went 0-2 but had a lot of fun and got to meet a bunch of cool people.

What I learned:
1) ESK, HoA, and X22X recovery work just fine offline.
2) Inkling ink is a menace
3) STOP. RUNNING. AT. PEOPLE. lol

I know the way twitter works and social media in general is just bandwagon effects and more "likes = correct" (in most people's minds, which is really bad btw) but that's a big reason I think social media (esp twitter) is very flawed and I don't use it as often as before.

If you were to ask me about smash stuff I'd say I'm an overall expert on it overall as a whole, but pls don't act like me or ANYONE with large following counts have more or less impactful words/opinions solely because of total following. That makes no sense and is stupid

It's really nice to see somebody with a large following say this, I've been thinking about this for months now and it's why I don't take social media "discussion" that seriously

Difference between HoA and FJ is that HoA does not require any extra inputs to avoid killing Brawler at zero

It simply requires the user to not mash

Went 1-2 for the second time

Things that went well:
Ledgetrapping with HK. I practiced that and it paid off even in the sets I lost; feels really good to reactively take stocks

Things that went poorly: being patient against people who outrange me. I'm seeing a pattern lol

I can take multiple stocks in a single game with it and they just gotta hold that.

It's so nice lol

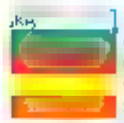
Most annoying part of the Mii Brawler Head-On Assault buff is that my partially complete spreadsheet of the minimum HoA kill % for every character on every part of every legal stage is now completely and thoroughly inaccurate. _
#SSBU



Grounded HoA on haracter below his platform brings character above the platform and connects landing hit
Grounded HoA on character below this platform brings Brawler above the platform but of the opponent's character
Grounded HoA on character below the platform does not connect with the platform at all
Specific o Charizard Only works when Charizard is facing away from Brawler when HoA is initiated otherwise Charizard isn't hit at all

Percentage Lowest percent (approx) before hit at which his will kn ng D' slide moves off no rage) can be dependent on direction sent may al earlier also dependent on impact loc
Brawler can grab ommon moves (besides dthrow) HoA Wolf at 0% on Kirby, unlike Kirby's Platforms at 34%

How I know 3221 Brawler is a good character

I have fun even when losing

Like, I could play this char against top tiers all day and love doing it.

Everything about 3221 is just way, WAY too much fun offline

Now consider that out of the 21 characters who can get their ledgehang better falcon punched... at least 10 can also probably get 2-framed.

The actually useful thing I learned from labbing ESK vs ledgehangs is that regrabbing the ledge grants either zero or nearly 0 iframes

Which info I have and will now continue to use to send people into the abyss via dair every. single. time. they regrab. :)

BETTER WAY OF PHRASING THIS

Winning neutral more often ... out playing your opponent. That's such a baby mindset lmfao. Neutral is such a small and sometimes unimportant part of the game

> Yume @Yume_Lucario
> SIDE NOTE people that vote A almost always seem to be the same group of people that think neutral interactions are the largest indicator of skill or that neutral is the most important part of the game or something twitter.com/yume_lucario/s...

I'd agree that winning neutral more or even at all is not the same as outplaying your opponent; some characters have moves that play neutral for them.

Ultimately, whether you win neutral or not doesn't matter, only whether your opponent loses 3 stocks before you do.

I wouldn't go so far as to say that neutral is small or unimportant across the board though. I think it depends on the exact mu; characters with similar tools may spend much more time in neutral against each other than characters having an asymmetric mu.

0-2 in bracket tonight, local was like literally just very good players, socal pr... And me. 😅

Did manage to take a game with a raw, hard read, all-or-nothing offstage HoA thunderbolt tho, so that was pretty cool.

Takeaways.
1) Playing very patiently w ns me games and makes games vs better peop e much closer, I gotta tra n until I can mainta n that patient concentration for entire sets
2) I'm going ast stock last hit too much I need to hone my ledgetrapping and grind out k l confirms

1

coldForce @CForce 000 5h

3) BDK has been doing work, not only is it (a ong with HK) making it pretty damn difficu t to edgeguard me, but it's been getting ki ls too, both stage spike and raw jump/getup reads, move is real y good

1 1

coldForce @CForce3000 5h

4) I have rea ized that 3221 is about as g ass cannon of a moveset as one can have and sti l have a recovery Aaaaaand I haven't really been us ng the cannon part.

Ok more serious answer:
Mac is fox/sonic but with armor and less dangerous aerials
Shield is your friend.
Don't try to punish most moves on shield, instead bait his attacks and whiff punish Get him offstage by w/e means necessary and then ledgetrap him into oblivion.
Be patient.

The one actually useful thing for tonight: dtilt can z-axis chest-high attacks, like horizontal tilts or small projectiles (arrows, hadouken, uncharged charge shot, etc)
Approaching with dtilt can not only start combos but also avoid many retaliatory moves

Burning Drop Kick does some weird stuff, and one of the weirdest (to me at least) is that it appears to do some weird momentum/position boost/shift/thing when going over a ledge from either side

Anyone know what's going on behind the scenes with this move?

Why does every character in the game except mine have about 8 different fast, unpunishable normals and a grab the length of Canes's drivethrough line?

Actually it prob does differ according to moveset

People relying on FMP/SAK are gonna need to play more like Fox and get opponents to 100+

HK/Thrupper users are much more Luigi-like in that it's juat a horrendous idea to engage with them at all (in my experience)

Was bored today and decided to make a fully ordered tier list of all of Brawler's moves.
This is a very, VERY biased list; view at your own discretion LOL

If needed, make your own, much better list here :)

Fun fact of the day! Did you know that of all the many costumes to appear in the Super Smash Bros. series over the years, as of September 9, 2021, there's still only been one where using it revokes your rights to healthcare and clean water? Fascinating!

Fun fact of the day! Did you know in Fire Emblem, Ike is fast and has projectiles, but these traits were removed in Super Smash Bros. as director Sakurai felt a fast projectile swordsman would be too strong? He then went and added Cloud in the very next fucking game. Fascinating!

0-2 at Dreamlab, los ng to Rewind's Chroy and Lonk s Kroo/Link.

2-2 in rez bracket, losing to Phresh s Wo f and Rainz s Roy

Of note:

Most importantly, figured out thanks to chatting/friendlies with Lonk that i really need to stop playing online entirely.

It usually takes me about three games to adapt to someone, and I suspect I can cut that down a lot if I don't also have to adjust my timing every single time

Have fighting games always allowed DLC to be tourney legal, or is that specifically a Smash thing? I know historically pay-to-win options have been frowned upon in a lot of competitive scenes, but fighting games are slightly different (1/2)

Normally a pay-to-win option is available only to the purchaser, and that still holds true for online smash; however, for offline tourneys, any dlc chars are available to both players.

Of course, there's still the issue of not being able to practice said dlc without buying them

Second-worst: Onslaught. A killing version of raptor boost, but completely unsafe on shield, slow, and sends into special fall even on hit.

Worst: Counter Throw. Very strong fast counter but is a grab with Brawler's grab range (so about 0), does not trigger on projectiles.

Fun fact of the day! Did you know that despite being slower than Mario in Super Smash Bros., Doctor Mario actually weighs exactly the same? This is a reference to the countless lives he was unable to save during his medical career, which weigh heavily on his soul. Fascinating!

Heretical Mii Musings (aka HMM), Episode 1:

Brawler upsmash is bad.
It doesn't reliably beat disjoints, cover crossups or spaced aerials, or kill mid-weights below 110-120%.

It's Fox upsmash on a char with top 26 run speed instead of top 6.

99% of the time HK is just better.

Fun fact of the day! Did you know Lucario heavily references Dragon Ball in Super Smash Bros., even using Goku's voice actor? Despite pandering to such a colossal fandom (to say nothing of the furries), he still has literally zero players, which is almost impressive. Fascinating!

Why are you as a Mii player bad at navigating the menu

FireThePyro Port Priority 6 @FireThePyro · 4m
That being said one of the most archaic things about Ultimate menus is that if you are TOO fast on certain screens in Mii Fighter creation the game will register your input and play the animation as if you selected said option but NOT actually select/go to whatever you picked

Was thinking about DLC not being inherently banned from competitive Smash, and made this:
A pay-to-win tier list

Top tier is approximately ordered from most to least dead franchise, and then ordered within franchises

Bottom tier is loosely ordered

Enjoy LOL #SSBU

That would be HoA's richochet knockback: when it just clips an opponent but can't quite drag them all the way down for the landing hitbox, so they instead just take the spike and get vertically bounced off of the nearest platform or ground
Happens a lot when trading with aerials

You can come in on the same trajectory as with nair and then switch up to fair to completely mess up opponents' timing and spacing

Plus, brawlers never ever use it outside of combos, so it's probably actually one of the least well-known moves in our arsenal, even against people who have a lot of mu xp

All of our other aerials are single hit; fair isn't byleth nair, but it is our only multihit aerial

No changes to suplex, FJ, or fair
No buffs to onslaught

Strong nair now kills at 60

It depends a lot on the character tbh but one th ng I've earned is that at least for fast fal ers, any SDI vs wood or stone tools does pretty much nothing. Aside from that you a ways genera ly want to SDI out because SDI in can be reacted to and combos wil cont nue

Personally I'd juat like to play on a relatively neutral stage for game 1

I do not wanna end up forced to play on platform camping central for game 1, consisting of BF/SBF/Smashville/Hollow Bastion/Yoshis

Was actually something I was thinking about recently lol AFAIK, clips are split into
1) true combos
2) strings

category one is boring after it happens once cause true

category two is "lol they bad" cause in order for it to happen the opponent has to pick an incorrect option

Thought about what I could have done better all the way home from going 0-2

1) turn my brain on

I had no gameplan against either Wolf or Sora
None
I think I threw out 20 BDKs as kill options
I did no combos
I didn't even attempt a single confirm in both friendlies and bracket

Questions that I will never know the answers to:

Why does wolf bair kill below 90?
Why does wolf bair do 15%?
Why does wolf bair come out frame 13
...
.....
.....
And, as is only right for a 44-frame move autocancel frame 19?

I could only get it a couple times

It appears to require not just fast-fall weak nair into buffered HoA

But actually fast-fall forward momentum nair into buffered HoA

AKA you need to both hold forward and fast fall the nair

that moves brawler close enough that HoA is true

The Power A ones are an option a belt I don't like how big the sticks feel so choose this instead. I can't say they're great quality because although the controller works perfectly, the jump button seems to start fucking up within 2 3 months. I replace it for $6 with my

My insurance isn't covering the cost of my vehicle. I naively assumed it was already in my policy but because I obtained my insurance before owning a vehicle I never added personal car coverage. That vehicle was my pride and joy and I've lost it completely. It's a catastrophe

Waiting for TOs at majors to run a good stagelist

IDK why everything has Lylat, Yoshis, & Kalos lately.

Could easily run

Starters:
FD
PS2
BF

Counterpicks:
SBF
Hollow Bastion

2 ban no DSR and it's a great ruleset

Mainstage had 3 ban 9 stages full DSR and it was awful

Probably the biggest thing I need to figure out is how to cqc without disengaging to the other side of the stage every time my strings aren't true. Historically I get like 1-3 hits and then break away back to dash dancing, and I really don't need to do that nearly as much as I do

Typ ca ly when people finish their strings and dont wanna keep swinging at someone they just go to a "good" position, f you finish with someth ng that launches up that's usually be ow them, offstage that's usually to ledge, sideways b t still onstage that's usua ly burst range

Th s s assuming some very broad/vague scenarios though, there are defin tely going to be times where some characters/p ayers incentivize you to push forward or take a different part of the stage

if I juggle mario and take a position diagonally down from him, he can't do too much about it

If I try that with inkling or pyra imma die tho LOL

FireThePyro Domino Effect 18 @FireThePyro · 13m
Kinda depends on a lot of factors - if you think someone is gonna mash it might be better to just keep trying to punch them provided you believe you can in time

If you play your cards right as brawler you can just keep mashing on people as long as you follow their movement

FireThePyro Domino Effect 18 @FireThePyro · 11m
It mostly comes down to having a strong idea of what you could do, what you can do, and what you should do, usually guided by risk/reward and gamesense

Dashdancing back and forth has very little benefit and negative benefit when you're getting hit for it every time BUT

FireThePyro Domino Effect 18 @FireThePyro · 9m
If you're noticing the opponent keeps going for the punish on your dashdance you can use that to your advantage, anywhere from a dash attack (probably what I would do if my opponent started to show signs of committing to something) to Hellkick (if they fuck up colossally)

FireThePyro Domino Effect 18 @FireThePyro · 8m
Lots of examples like this, just watch back your play and ask yourself if what you just did/got hit for made any objective sense given the context and you should have a better idea of what's getting you hit/killed

someone PLEASE check on my professor

Hello.

There is no class tomorrow. I've got some things to take care of regarding this and my other class and my full time job. I have received countless emails about zeroes on assignments either through errors I've made, you've made, or simply people not realizing or knowing they were supposed to turn it in and then realizing in panic they received a zero on it for (surprise) not turning it in. It seems that giving you a free assignment so long as you turn SOMETHING in created far more chaos than good will. Apologies. That's on me. And you. But also me. But also you.

Congratulate yourselves. You've overloaded me.

Submit it. I've extended the deadline until tomorrow before Midnight.

If you do NOT turn it in before then, I'm sorry. It's a zero. No excuses at this point and frankly, I regret ever trying to make this assignment easier because it's created more problems at this point.

I will look at these. Do not do something stupid like type "b" or "I did it". I will become enraged and bitch about you for exactly 15 seconds to anyone within my proximity who will listen. I will not hold back.

After I receive these, I will give you full credit (pending the above prerequisites). I will then promptly print 100 copies of the assignment out, put them in a pile, light that pile on fire and dance around the rubble as it burns. I will then put my hand on the smoldering embers so that I may feel again. Feel what, you might ask? Anything. Literally anything.

I will then sleep like a baby, having put this nightmare behind me.

What does brawler actually do about people in the corner?
I feel like most people I play want to be there and then I have to approach the heavy/zoner/good oos/good backthrow char in the corner and it turns very easily into brawler being offstage

ALSO important to recognize that the endgoal of fight ng a cornered opponent isnt to kill them but to just keep them there for as long as possible would rather repeatedly win a ledgetrap for 12% three t mes than win neutral for 20% three t mes biggest issue I have with this is

a) i do a bad job of fastfalling so i need to not suck LOL
b) people sit under plats in the corner all the time and it's hell to actually get through the plat and hit them without eating their oos option of choice

I use the horizontal killing up-b, not the vertical, so yoshis just gets me cheesed by all the OTHER chars that kill early off the top isn't the benefit of brawler that you can change ur moveset, so just use thrupper for yoshi's and cheese people. Also you won't have to waste a ban on yoshi's.

I mean if i played brawler proper, then yeah
but I specifically only play the one moveset (cause tbh i deeply don't care about the other moves at all)

*technically Yoshis is also really good for helikick brawler, i just hate triplats cause dealing with disjoints on them

I would say that waiting thirty minutes to then spend another thirty losing to Megaman and Snake was a massive waste of my time

But incidents that give me this much determination to learn all zoner mus with the express purpose of making examples out of them can't be all bad :)

Great thing about brawler is that it's very clear when I played wel

Bad thing about brawler is that I have literally zero margin of error
If I whiff, I die
If I mispace, I die
Press the wrong button
Hesitate to press a button
Mess up even slightly offstage
and I die

1

I don't have moves with iframes
Or comeback mechanics
Or safe kill moves
Or safe projectiles
Or easy kill throws
Or free disjoints
Or generous confirms

I know I'm improving
I know I can deal with all the above
but holy HELL every character in the game outranging me is pain LOL

We contacted the mods and they have been very he pful, but annoy get anywhere. A mod has already been banned and so has Jazar who got first so it al feels like a scam and 'd advise anyone participating in the bracket to be very wary of what's going on Banning steve cause he's a little bit broken is dumb.

Banning all of the dlc on principle because, as dlc, they are automatically more broken than the base roster to make them more appealing so that people shell out for them...

Alternatively, separate tourneys into dlc-only brackets and base-game only brackets

That way characters that are balanced similarly end up in the same brackets

Banning steve cause he's a litt e bit broken is dumb

Banning all of the dlc on princ ple because, as dlc, they are automatically more broken than the base roster to make them more appeal ng so that people shell out for them...

Alternatively, separate tourneys into dlc-only brackets and base-game only brackets

That way characters that are balanced similarly end up in the same brackets

@Scotch...

I'm gonna be the first TO to take initiative
People want Steve banned because he carries super hard, has no lag, and kills at 40
Therefore, I will be banning Pyra/Mythra from Spartan Weeklies next sem because they also do that and I hate them more.
G'day. Thanks for understanding but I hate that all the stats are in numbers with no units on a related note, when UFD says "pikachu has runspeed of 2.0" what that actually means is pikachu runs about 11 small training room squares per second

also imma try and calculate every char's fastest move

Movement options	Move Speeds (squares/sec)	MoveSpeeds (unitless)
ESK (Kick)	40	7.272727273
ESK (Turnaround Drift)	4.737	0.8612727273
BDK	16	2.909090909

How does Leo move so fast with such a slow character

40 18 1.8K

coldForce (Christmas montage DONE) @CForce3000 Dec 17
Byleth's foxtrot is much faster than his walkspeed and is close to Lucina's foxtrot speed; still slow, but not bottom 15
Couple that with dash attack/side b's movement range and byleth's range in general and you've got a "slow" character that can still hit you whenever they want

Ok these are the same two recordings but by themselves

Foxtrot beats out run by a little going from one side of the stage to the other

Again, not sure that I was foxtrotting optimally

Jazar hasn't been paid out yet. Not gonna let this die off until everyone who deserves their earnings gets it.

Any help is appreciated.

Or I'm bad at foxtrotting with Byleth LOL cause their initial dash is 1.8 speed and their run is 1.43
so I may just be timing it wrong

1 1

Happy Ducky @Happy_Ducky17 4m
The problem with relying solely on these values is it misses the deceleration and acceleration mechanics where 1.8 is only a TOP speed and becomes 1.43 partway through instead

1 1

coldForce (Christmas montage DONE) @CForce1000 40m
Yeah, I get that; I don't see any stats at all of deceleration on UFD tho so I don't know how to calculate which one is optimal

All I can look at is the frame-by-frame, and the foxtrot is at the least very definitely not losing to the run there

1 1

Happy Ducky @Happy_Ducky17 38m
Longer range, the discrepancy will add up over time and that's where the loss would actually start resulting And I believe the stat is friction but I legit can't remember the param sheet

Hard Question:

Would you agree to a true lockdown for 2 weeks to end this pandemic?

No, because it wouldn't work. As soon as we emerged, it would be there waiting. And there is no such thing as a true lockdown, you still need hospitals, food service, delivery of goods, which means people circulating. It's a fantasy and it's time we let go of it.
19 · 19 · 566

JustMe @I_heart_this · Jan 3
To me, it's only a fantasy because some people would not stay home. If we are only talking a couple of weeks to a month, food could be delivered before hand so the only true needs to have emergency services available

2 weeks will not likely end the pandemic, a 5-6 weeks break likely will. Having said that, had all eligible candidates have vaccinated by now, the likelihood of continuing pandemic would have been much lower

I have a question about moves that have different aerial framedata than grounded do they all work like thoron where it switches to the ground framedata immediately when you land or do some of them stick to the different framedata even if you land

Brawler's falcon punch variant switches from aerial knockback and damage to grounded knockback and damage on landing

The geounded version is significantly stronger so this is very helpful for all 3 people that use this move LOL

I AM GOING TO BE PLAYING THE ENTIRITY OF FIVE NIGHTS AT FREDDYS 1 ON STREAM LATER TONIGHT

I AM GOING TO BE TERRIFIED AND SO SCARED BUT I PLAN ON BEATING THE ENTIRE GAME.... INCLUDING 4/20 MODE ON CUSTOM NIGHT (hopefully.... ahahahaha)

SEE YOU THEN

oh yeah btw yes this is ESK in the process of turning to the left

fun fact normal ESK is frame 50

turned around ESK is technically anywhere from frame 52 all the way up to frame 73

however
HOWEVER
in terms of reacting to where ESK is pointed reversed ESK is frame 43 :)

But back when 2gg was around weekly 200+ or capped. Go sign up if you can or we likely won't have other majors here besides BTS probably

There's a big difference between asking most of LA to drive 30 minutes and pay $15 to go 0-2 or 1-2, and asking the same people to drive 90 minutes and pay 70 dollars... to still go 0-2 or 1-2

Th ngs like this I understand, what I m wondering s where a l the 200+ people who would regu arly show up weekly to MSM when Covid stil existed are at and why they aren't showing up to FoF

coldForce @CForce3000 9m
As someone who subscribed to 2gg specifica ly to be ab e to prereg for MSM

MSM was.
20 minutes away
cou d get there after work
Had country-wide ta ent regularly $15 entry
had just gotten fu ly vaccinated and covid cases were far ower and dropping

1

coldForce @CForce3000 7m
Something else to consider is that MSM was held during summer

So most of the students that have HW and classes right now wou d have been free then and cou d attend

i gotta disagree a little bit
it was positioned extremely centrally for LA county
that's probably the biggest thing I miss about it: that I could get there 30 minutes after work

almost every other local is a minimum of 90 minutes away due to their locations and LA traffic

I'm like 90% sure brawler goes even/beats GnW but that's based off a grand total of 1 hour of offline friendlies with Yoshifreak 6 months ago LOL

for reference, I lost all but one game, but many games were way closer than they should have been for our skill/xp gap

If this move went through shields, or killed midair, or didn't require rage to kill at useful percents, then it might be worthwhile

But as it stands, you need a char that can get rage safely, and also survive whiffing it
Heavies/ lucario can get rage, but no one can survive -54

Statement regarding FoF redemption bracket:
It has been brought to our attention from multiple sources that @White_NovaULT & @MarvelousMarco_ have committed bracket manipulation in the redemption bracket, after receiving information about a pot bonus. 1/6

Therefore as a warning for bracket manipulation, we will not be releasing winnings to @White_NovaULT 1st place win. Unfortunately @MarvelousMarco_ intentions didn't come to light until after we released his winnings for taking 2nd place. 2/6

We will not be asking for the winnings back since this was an oversight on our part and will take full responsibility. He is free to do whatever his conscious allows him to do with his winnings. 3/6 idk tbh, he mustve thought 300 was for first or something. Also socal has an 0-2 rule, if you go 0-2 at a tourney, you are not considered for PR that season.

Sora makes me more tilted than any of the other dlc

He makes me more tilted than Steve

I'd be impressed, but given that said tilting takes slightly less skill to pull off than Sora's entire gameplan...

i don't think i did the last test right and ended up with 12 frames of input delay offline in training mode and a FAT 18-22 frames of input delay online even against very non-laggy opponents

definitely gonna try to get consistency

On the assumption that pro controller typically has 6-7 frames of input delay, and that therefore the offline "12" frames of input delay was actually 6 frames + 6 frames of offset from OBS/capture card:

Offline/Online training mode: 6-7 frames of input delay

Normal person I played 12-13 frames of input delay (minimum(?) for online)

Slightly laggier person 16 frames of input delay

Which is frankly crazy tbh
Like afaik the matchmaking syatem matched me with people near me
I'm kinda scared to test against people from out of state

Having 1/5th to 1/4th a second of endlag by default isn't fun

what's even less fun is that 5/9 of the randoms I played also had constant stuttering happening: incessant 2-4 frame freezing of the game

less than half the people I played had no lag spikes or stuttering

Personally suplex's dmg was never particularly convincing due a) brawler kills very early and b) brawler does absurd dmg without suplex anyway

Suplex's armor and ability to ignore shields are its main advantages imo when doing comparison to bdk's recovery/range/killpotential

Let's say, hypothetically, your main gets Arsene. With this, they get the obvious buffs. Bigger hit boxes, higher kill power, etc. But, an overlooked thing about Arsene is how it improves Joker's specials. So, In what way would your main's specials be improved if they had arsene?

This does not make me any less pissed that UFD and every single Sora player i've talked to since release has told me I have 11-12 more frames of advantage THAN I ACTUALLY HAVE

Like huh, it might be nice to know that I only have 21/22 frames after shield drop

Like, this is the difference for me with my mediocre run speed and garbage grab between "i can just drop shield and grab sora without needing to be super precise" and "if i don't react immediately i can't safely punish this at all without risking my stock"

You have no idea how frustrating it's been to be trying to punish a nominally -43 move and get countered or dsmashed or spotdodged

And then go to ufd
-43
Play another game
-punish that i swear should work easily on
-43 move gets me killed

I feel like you only have to ask one question to determine whether brawler beats insert character here and that question is "did brawler get to land nair once"

Aka, the easy-to-deal-with sonic-blade-from-the-other-side-of-the-stage is -43, but the really annoying homing sonic blade around shield into "maybe i grab you, maybe i don't" isn't

Brawler's da is definitely mid, it rarely combos into anything and basically never kills, definitely not safe; it is pretty fast and definitely useful but compared to every other dash attack in the game it feels just very balanced and thus also mediocre

I don't use unusual outfits tho; partially because my default outfit is a normal one and partially because some of the dlc/unlockable ones are really hard to tell what's going on (Yoshi skin is historically the most egregious of these)

Shit in this game that needs to go

- Airdodge teching
- Invincibility on phantom footstool
- Ledgehangs being able to body block
- inconsistency on when the game decides you can go through opponents
- Trying to tech roll but you slide off the stage and it buffers airdodge

Hatchet Man has... weird numbers
idk what to make of the #DragonQuest protagonists' stats here definitely not the worst move in the category

Hatchet Men have you KO'd with in Ultimy hours have you played Hero in Ultir ieldbreaks/dropped controllers)

9:34 PM · 21 Mar 2022

1

coldForce @CForce3000 · 58s

The most notable thing about #mi brawler s stats is that I'm now quite sure no one plays this character with ESK nor has any idea of what they're do ng with it

Ike, the maximum total ESK's landed between all 31 players in the past 3 years is 330.

have over 6,500.
o

ploding Side Kicks have you KO'd with in my hours have you played Mii Brawler in ldbreaks/dropped controllers) only counting hours using Exploding Sic

1

coldForce @CForce3000 · 57s

Takeaways.

For the general playerbase, I think
Hatchet Man > Aymr > Falcon Punch > Warlock Punch

'm now absolutely sure that Explod ng S de Kick l tera ly in a different tier of move
as in, comparing ESK and the other four is just insu ting to ESK lol

can't just mash on them because they will commit capital offenses

Either way it's a decent slap but probably only that, since human reaction time is around 200 ms or so (more less) it could be reactable IF it was expected, however people react slower to things they aren't expecting, and Chris wasn't expecting it here, so it hit him

In Smash Ultimate online this is still unreactable since there's 11-12 frames human reaction time + 6/7 frames delay (18 offline) then adds at least 5 for the best possible online connection, so the slap hits you before you can defend yourself with a frame 1 shield, its good here

ok i am pretty sure i know why i can hit ESK with relative consistency

"it's frame 50"
so is shotput
unless you are quite literally in someone's face, shotput is frame 50+

if brawlers in general can connect an extremely telegraphed frame 50+ move armored ESK's not that hard lol

Most people in the smash community not only refuse to think, but rely on results to validate their opinions. There's the clip breaking down Leo's decision making to take a stock from Sparg0 and people don't understand what active thinking is and then there's the Lucario clip

Where Bbtman does at like 30 to a max aura Lucario combo and people are losing their MINDS instead of thinking "wow maybe seeing a clip of a character makes them seem good!" It's just super annoying to see such uninformed takes

ESK is way too safe and flexible to be cool 99% of the time

Warlock Punch is so slow that hitting it is almost always either purely optimal (extremely laggy move/shieldbreak) or the opponent completely turned their brain off; neither is cool

FP either doesn't work or is optimal

Characters like Kazuya, Luigi, DK etc don't lose matchups.

Its impossible for these kinda characters to truly "LOSE" a matchup.

Because they're never ever really actually LOSING. They need 1 hit to win and people be like "dk loses the matchup" lol. HOW. WHERE.

a fairly little known but potentially impactful fact is that attacks classified as "indirect" actually give a much higher advantage on parry (+12 compared to the standard +3) which can allow for a much bigger punish than you would otherwise expect if you know in advance

How good at smash do you rate yourself on a 1 to 10 scale? With 1 being an 0-2er and 10 being a top 10 player in the world?

Rules are you go 50/50 with someone with the same number you can at most beat someone +2 on you

you can lose to someone -2 on you today i learned that i have been grabbing out of shield in the literal slowest way possible cause i thought it didn't matter when you dropped shield

but unlike upsmash/upb/jump, if you drop shield and then try to grab, you eat the full 11 shield drop frames first yeah .-.

The real question is will whoever is running product on let you set your Mii up on the stream setup.

Don't forget that you can just put him on an Amiibo if you have one and tote him around

Assign the mii as the owner of the amiibo

then when you go to make a mii fighter you can offload that owner mii onto the new system

Steve is the only char that I think is inherently truly flawed out of fp2, since he ignores the underlying design of competitive play.

If you're up two stocks on a villager and they go camp in the corner for thirty seconds, no big deal, they're just timing themselves out 1/2

Steve neither has to nor even wants to p ay the game
Steve can be down two stocks, at 100%, on the other side of the stage, and be winning
Simply because h s opponent, up two stocks, doesn t want to approach one of the best campers in a game skewed towards camp ng

Cool

Rapscallion @rapsca onSSB 51m
Th s exaggeration is so extremely warped that it doesnt even make sense You're overva uing the ut lity of diamond and gold to such a degree that it s better than being up two whole stocks and with the opponent at 100%

Peop e real y do not l ke camping steve back and idg

Dunno what's hard to understand lol
Steve has many win conditions like most characters, but diamond and gold are definitely the most straightforward and troublesome to deal with

And huh i have no idea why camping back a character who gets better when camping might be a bad idea think this is actually the biggest issue

play like I want my opponent to have fun

I don't just camp them into the ground or walk out of range of their spammy aerials

aaaaaaaaand I think I'm going to start because if they wanna play degenerate then let's get degenerate

Bayo up-b is +0 on shield

Brawler falcon punch is positive on shield if people don't understand the move and try to drop shield and punish, but that's just mu inexp and is shared by a lot of suprisingly safe moves like Giant Punch

Minmin may as well be positive on shield lol

On a related note, Sora side b is not positive, but is significantly more positive than ufd claims
Specifically the third hit of the locked on version is like 10+ frames safer than ufd shows

Some "geologists" will claim to teach you everything about a volcano: vent geometry, volcanic environment, etc. Yet they themselves are unable to release even 20 megatons of thermal energy in a devastating blast of pyroclastic fury. I find this highly concerning.

what do yall think about steve not approaching while being down in percent/stocks

vs the rest of the cast not approaching while being in the same situation

Steve gets materials and just gets much more tangible benefits from not approaching than most other characters. So him not approaching while being down can and most likely will make it easier to make a comeback compared to other characters who are just testing patience

I mean Steve isn't exactly invincible when gathering materials so theres risk involved. There's a lot of resource characters in other fighting games that also run away and collect stuff when they're behind. They just have different win conditions from normal characters.

mostly done adapting to gamecube, feels really good now can b-reverse on command, most misinputs are clearly my fault, entirely feels better than pro lol

the stiffness of the c-stick is causing some misinputs cause not used to how much force i gotta apply but i can walk now

I'm not advocating for a ban on any smash characters. I just think it's funny that DLC pass 2 dropped characters that cut out or reshaped key fundamental parts of neutral or gameplay in general and I've just had to hold that X player just had to find their "soul" character

This is why we have house of representatives and also the Senate

One is based directly on population (so california has a ton of representatives)
One is based simply upon being a state , thus only two senators

Both houses of congress exist because the US takes into account not just the democratic representation of its entire population but also the democratic representation of the semi-autonomous regions known as the states; no equal representation in the senate would cause secession funniest part is this happened most often in middle-high class income homes

nothing makes you feel more like you don't belong lol

I had friends who went for seconds, thirds, fourths for my moms cooking and they were like "we don't get stuff made from scratch like she does it"

the absolute WORST was when I was out at dinner with a friends family at like, a nice sit down place as a teenager

when the bill came they gave me my own separate bill 👀

What's busted about Steve is that he ensures there are no legal, neutral stages. Blocks break the competitive scene's design at a fundamental level, because every single stage becomes steve-favored 3 seconds into the match. No other char causes that (except kirb vs steve)

Only steve physically reshapes the entire stage to be to his advantage

Steve without blocks would be... a normal dlc char LOL

Like he'd still have stupid damage but everyone has stupid damage

Any character with blocks would be absurdly broken because they would have free, flexible, and extremely powerful camping tools as soon as they're even or ahead

Th s s also why Steve is the only bannab e char in SSBU
The rest of the d c, as annoying as they are, play by the normal ru es
Only steve phys ca ly reshapes the entire stage to be to his advantage

Which would be fine if everyone else cou d do the exact same th ng

Further musings

B ocks are why I actually don t take Steve seriously anymore LOL

Playing aga nst Steve (online at least) feels almost exactly like playing against that one guy w th his "super funny" custom stage that kills you at zero 3 times because that s its sole purpose

KRU coldForce

And when you're in that situation, the only real options are usually to lose and then pick your own super unfair custom stage

Or to stop playing with them entirely

Which brings up the further point that Steve may actually be the single most broken char in smash history

What's busted about Steve is that he ensures there are no legal, neutral stages. Blocks break the competitive scene's design at a fundamental level, because every single stage becomes steve-favored 3 seconds into the match. No other char causes that (except kirb vs steve) two months of seriously collecting clips, from April 14 to June 14

208 games saved so far

these are the only chars not yet ESK'd

if i have played one of these chars and ESK'd them and they're on this list still, you're welcome ;)

As a general rule I don't save clips from arenas with non-randoms unless
A) super good clip
B) i really need it for the montage (aka armor)
C) jank worth looking at the replay

None of the ESK clips recently were in one of those categories lol, so none saved

Based on twitter discourse, I have now decided to only use aerials against EWGF, simply because I think it's funny to reward the all-powerful, well-balanced, and entirely fair antiair with 70% of air-to-ground damage.

okay time again to ask for any songs in smash ult mate that would fucking bang if they played naturally on a competitive stage. Anything from AC/Pokemon/FF/KH/SmashOriginal is barred as those already play naturally on comp stages. Remixes or originals both work.

It's very funny seeing how each smash scene handles discussions on banning characters/mechanics and what not over each new game. From brawl til now it's so interesting seeing how the more time goes on shit stays the same.

Custom stages, stage morph, and stage hazards are illegal

And we have a character who quite literally makes every stage as custom as humanly possible 3 seconds into each match

There are lots of characters that can ztd, but only one that can make a legal stage illegal midmatch

Would it also fine to have custom stages that are designed from the start to time out and/or kill the opponent as long as they look cool?
In a competitive scene?

I mean technically the opponent can get lucky and start in the winning location so it's all fair...

Steve isn't simply threatening/ denying space like the other zoners, or just setting up traps

He is literally altering the stage
Any stage you pick vs steve goes from mostly neutral to incredibly, inherently imbalanced within 5 seconds of game start as they modify its layout

That is a fundamental level of control over the game that no other character has or even comes close to
And any other character would be just as highly criticized if they could do this; some might actually be worse

"Unbeatab e" is a terrib e standard because a most anything can, in a very technical sense, be beaten, You can beat a wall hacking a mbot in TF2. and? That's not a reasonab e argument for a lowing wa lhacking aimbots, they offer clear & unfair advantages in fundamenta aspects

At about 500 ESK KO recorded since april, i have a lot of data now lol

So lemme see how well yall understand this move

Is it easiest to (with ESK)

- KO using armor
- KO using movement
- KO as a true punish
- KO using shield safety

I throw away a lot of them

Steve Ban poll (to see what people think).

I'm personally for choice #3 most, #2 second most since I think Steve runs [and SUPER carries] online, but I also think that more stages legal would balance campy characters a LOT

BAN online, BAN offline	25.4%
BAN online, LEGAL offline	6.3%
more STAGES (nerfs steve)	32.3%
change nothing	36.1%

Nvmd, found golden falcon and then a whole lot of swords

So many swords
Can people play like other things than cloud/seph/sora online? Please?
I know you wanna win at any cost but like
Man
I have like 30 clips of them already
I don't need more

Squirtle is so difficult to ko with esk armor it's not even funny anymore

Aerials are a no-go, so are specials
I have to condition him to smash attack or dash attack, but somehow keep him from pulling the trigger too early and dying unarmored

#2 Cloud hater @mirasgone · 53m
In a vacuum it's electric insanely easily blocks r only as good as they are because of Steve's kit and his need to actually use walls to mine for resources very few characters in the game would get what he does from blocks because they can't jump during their moves or don't

2 7

Robin's Compass @Robins_compass · 51m
You should know by now how much of a Kazuya believer I am but honest to god I think manado arts is the best move in ult in a vacuum and honestly tornado is still potentially better than one or both of them

1 2

#2 Cloud hater @mirasgone · 50m
tornado might be better yeah I'm not a brawl player

monado arts imo aren't the best because they have built in drawbacks for each art and are only active for like 8 seconds befor going on cooldown

@bee_not_hachi · 29m
its crazy bc tornado isnt even a top 3 move in brawl meta knight's kit

and if we allow banned strategies its probably dimensional cape bc if you get even a 1% lead at any point the match is actually just over you win

#2 Cloud hater @mirasgone · 26m
yeah probably also I forgot entirely about shuttle loop isn't that move like OD in that game

What is it?

#2 Cloud hater @mirafsgone · 1h
In a vacuum it's electric insanely easily blocks r only as good as they are because of Steve's kit and his need to actually use wa s to mine for resources very few characters in the game would get what he does from b ocks because they can't jump during their moves or don't

2 7

Robin's Compass @Robins_compass · 1h
You should know by now how much of a Kazuya believer I am but honest to god I think manado arts is the best move in sit in a vacuum and honestly tornado is still potentia y better than one or both of them

1 2

#2 Cloud hater @mirafsgone · 1h
tornado might be better yeah I'm not a brawl player

monado arts imo aren't the best because they have built in drawbacks for each art and are only active for like 8 seconds befor going on cooldown

@bee_not_hachi · 45m
its crazy bc tornado isnt even a top 3 move in brawl meta knight's kit and if we a ow banned strategies its probab y d.mensional cape bc if you get even a 1% lead at any point the match is actua y just over you w n

1 1

#2 Cloud hater @mirafsgone · 42m
yeah probab y

also I forgot entirely about shutt e loop isn t that move like OD in that game

@bee_not_hachi · 37m
massively d spointed and powerful frame 8 up b with a brutal launch angle and ful. body intangibil ty starting on f5 that also doubles as the best recovery in the entire history of smash

@bee_not_hachi 1h probably the most useful thing most characters would get is tech trapping at ledge which is good dont get me wrong but its pretty situational compared to the utility a lot of the better neutral specials provide

Hypo @WoHJosh 1h
I think the utility block has is much more than anything any other move can provide Having a way to consistently get a DJ back is broken. A way to reset ledge invul is broken. Like the move can do so so much the possibilities for every character would be insane

@bee_not_hachi 59m
so you want me to trade my best midrange poke tool combo starter and shield pressure option that ties the entirety of my character's kit together for the ability stall on ledge longer and get my double jump back (but only when im in double jump aerial range)

Hypo @WoHJosh 51m
That is just not what I said. I gave two examples how does that imply that's all you could do Look how good Steve players are using blocks. They're using it in damn near every interaction in the game And with the exception of NIL none of it is stuff only Steve could do

@bee_not_hachi 48m
im also using thunder damn near every interaction whether its for movement or to stall my fall or to help me get off ledge or to get extra height for a follow up or to bait an option or to start/extend/finish a combo or just to get the damn book like block isnt that special

@bee_not_hachi 46m
like its got a lot of uses and thats cool and all but like the actual best parts of block are the three things which are exclusive to steve because of his moveset movement and need to stall for resources everything else is nice sure but its not that insane just really good

Hypo @WoHJosh · 36m
Perhaps I just over value the ability to just change the stage in general but I genuinely think block is like overall the best neutral B in the game Like I wish there was a way to lab every character with block because I'm sure every character would have their own setups/tech

@bee_not_hachi 33m
sure every character would but the question is does it outweight the utility their base neutral special provides that would be lost for a lot of characters that arent that reliant on their neutral special like roy its probably yes but for a lot of chars that are its probably no

2 1

Hypo @WoHJosh · 28m
Tbf that's a lot of characters. Basically every rushdown and swordie. Probably every heavy. The spacies. Probably Mario and Luigi. Etc etc. I think it's just a generally more applicable move across than board even if in specific kits it's not as optimal

@bee_not_hachi 26m

Block lets the character with it do grounded moves midair

There are like... no other moves that permit this in smash lol

Brawlhalla actually has that as a mechanic from years ago (every char can do a gravity cancel using their air dash and then do a grounded move) something I'm confused about:

can you not buffer airdodge out of hitstun/tumble?
i consistently fail to either tech or airdodge when holding shield after getting hit by certain moves and i cannot for the life of me figure out if it's my reaction time or online or the actual game

Theoretically,

If I was able to procure a Prize Pot of somewhere between $2,000 and $10,000 for the JuanvitationaI

Nominate / QRT with one Top 100 Ultimate Player who you'd wanna see in an invitational one on one Melee bracket.

16 will be chosen

Also nominate some casters :)

How do you guys do rotations when you play smash? Do you guys have winner stay or actual rotation with everyone?

True rotation, usually by trying to win the first game and then immediately letting the next person take my spot

The thing i hate most about online is dealing with safe disjointed mashing

I find myself more and more just like... standing on the other side of the stage while insert char here does 5 aerials out of a jump into 3 tilts into two smash attacks like

I th nk a general damage output nerf a lows h m to use the un que too that is blocks w thout giving him a plethora of 0 to 90 combos The on y problem is that it makes the experience for a casual player who don't want to learn the crazy combos less fun.

The damage output isn't the issue imo
We have a LOT of characters who do that much damage: all the fgcs, luigi, mario, brawler, falco, wii fit, aegis, joker, minmin, yoshi, pika, wario etc

Several chars can ztd too;
His offensive options aren't unusual
His defensive ones are

Because Samus fsmash k lls at 50% and s safe on b ock right?
Because Monkey F ip kn s at 80-90% near the ledge right? And also stuns people for several seconds

Consider steve without blocks

No walls
No landing except dair
No ricochet setups
No delayed anvil
No planking offstage
Heavily reduced utilt/upair combos/confirms cause NIL is gone

That's a MUCH less scary character

Compare that to steve with slightly nerfed utilt LOL

it's all about emphasis
"upgraded Falcon Punch" can be emphasized as either

"UPGRADED Falcon Punch"

example:

"upgraded FIREWORK"

You can thank Sakurai and co. for looking at the armored falcon punch on a mii and deciding that it also needed to be spammable lol

from patch 3.1.0

this is also when brawler nair got moved into the "unholy" tier

Mii Brawler	Flurry Attack	Increased attack range and shortened the opponent's hitstun shuffle distance.
Mii Brawler	Up Smash Attack	Extended the high-damage window and reduced the low-damage window.
Mii Brawler	Neutral Air Attack	Reduced vulnerability when landing after using the move.
Mii Brawler	Back Air Attack	Reduced vulnerability when landing after using the move.
Mii Brawler	Up Air Attack	Increased power.
Mii Brawler	Neutral Special	Increased power.
Mii Brawler	Neutral Special	Reduced vulnerability.
Mii Brawler	Side Special	Extended distance and increased speed.
Mii Brawler	Up Special	Made it easier to grab edges.
Mii Brawler	Down Special	Greatly increased damage to opponents' shields.
Mii Brawler	Down Special	Extended launch distance of kick performed with extra input.

Just put saitama vs master ultra instinct goku

Goku did a 90+ hit combo r1 and then got one-punched

Start of r2. goku gets 1-hit comboed into one punch and literally explodes

I love this game

Now on the other hand, were someone to accidentally lose a sack of controllers in the venue and forget to claim them until hours later, i mean, it's an accident.

Just like the 15 hundred misinputs over the past 12 hours.

@notdreamland why is hoa in theirs LOL that category is very competitive yoshi's is the fastest and goes through plats bowser's break shields the easiest but brawlers is by far the strongest knockback and most consistent spike

@notdreamland i swear every other brawler lives in a different universe LOL rising hit combos into falling hit, has always combied into falling hit unless the brawler player messes it up and doesn't actually land the rising hit but insted the intermediate hits

afaik

dreamlamb!
@notdreamland

@CForce3000 if it broke full shield and combo'd one hit into the other itd be brawler free

@notdreamland also wdym no fear, it breaks full shields, has broken full shields since like 2021; even if it doesn't break full shields it very easily shield pokes and can kill from the shield poke > dreamlamb!

> @notdreamland
> @CForce3000 theres like almost no fear to just shielding it. good spikes are important and all but like. if u miss u die. yoshis and bowsers have a great on stage case. plus the rising hit doesnt even combo into the falling hit. i dont get what ur saying

@notdreamland shield breaking is bonus for hoa, its use case is just killing people outright. it's frame 8; that's fast enough to drop shield swordies for tilting my shield/smash attacking my shield, and rising hit has SAK range

The problem is that it's socially acceptable to be antisemitic.

You can go out there and couch it in all sorts of class struggle / resistance language and you can say completely insane things that are very dehumanizing to Jews.

We should have been paying attention & stopped it.

RT @CAKEMUSIC: Ahem.

> "This was not a debate. It was Trump using a technique that actually has a formal name, the Gish gallop, although I suspect he comes by it naturally. It's a rhetorical technique in which someone throws out a fast string of lies, non-sequiturs, and specious arguments, so many that it is impossible to fact-check or rebut them in the amount of time it took to say them. Trying to figure out how to respond makes the opponent look confused, because they don't know where to start grappling with the flood that has just hit them.
> It is a form of gaslighting, and it is especially effective on someone with a stutter, as Biden has. It is similar to what Trump did to Biden during a debate in 2020. In that case, though, the lack of muting on the mics left Biden simply saying: "Will you shut up, man?" a comment that resonated with the audience. Giving Biden the enforced space to answer by killing the mic of the person not speaking tonight actually made the technique more effective."

~~Obama~~ Biden Should Step Aside In ~~2012~~ 2024 and Let ~~Hillary~~ Kamala Save Our Country

By Douglas Schoen , · The Wall Street Journal

Published November 21, 2011 8.33am EST

Updated May 7, 2015 1.13am EDT

When Harry Truman and Lyndon Johnson accepted the reality that they could not effectively govern the nation if they sought re-election to the White House, both men took the moral high ground and decided against running for a new term as president. President Obama is facing a similar reality—and he must reach the same conclusion.

He should abandon his candidacy for re-election

The MAGA Plan to End Free Weather Reports

Project 2025 would all but dissolve the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

By Zoë Schlanger

JULY 16, 2024, 8:31 AM ET SHARE SAVE

In the United States, as in most other countries, weather forecasts are a freely accessible government amenity. The National Weather Service issues alerts and predictions, warning of hurricanes and excessive heat and rainfall, all at the total cost to American taxpayers of roughly $4 per person per year. Anyone with a TV, smartphone, radio, or newspaper can know what tomorrow's weather will look like, whether a hurricane is heading toward their town, or if a drought has been forecast for the next season. Even if they get that news from a privately owned app or TV station, much of the underlying weather data are courtesy of meteorologists working for the federal government.

if youre protesting the woman who wants a ceasefire instead of the man who wants to let bibi nuke the whole place you are supporting nuking the whole place. you do not care about Palestinian lives. you care about getting attention for yourself and electing a fascist.

that's it.

Measles kills. There were waves of polio epidemics from 1948 - 1955 when Trump was growing up. And the last time he was in office there were body bags in Central Park prior to the deployment of the COVID vaccine.

This is, quite literally a promise to kill kids.

If following Jesus isn't a choice made authentically through free will, it isn't genuine.

We are called to live in peace with those who choose to believe differently, not coerce them.

@SundaeDivine

This may seem like a minor issue, but our military should stop airing Fox on TVs in mess halls and common areas. Our military supports our Constitution, but Fox pushes them in the opposite direction. We wouldn't allow other anti-American propaganda to be broadcast to our troops.

RT @arash_tehran: .@FukuyamaFrancis wrote these lines two years ago and I couldn't agree more > Liberal democracy will not make a comeback unless people are willing to struggle on its behalf. The problem is that many who grow up living in peaceful, prosperous liberal democracies begin to take their form of government for granted. Because they have never experienced an actual tyranny, they imagine that the democratically elected governments under which they live are themselves evil dictatorships conniving to take away their rights, whether that is the European Union or the administration in Washington. But reality has intervened. The Russian invasion of Ukraine constitutes a real dictatorship trying to crush a genuinely free society with rockets and tanks, and may serve to remind the current generation of what is at stake. By resisting Russian imperialism, the Ukrainians are demonstrating the grievous weaknesses that exist at the core of an apparently strong state They understand the true value of freedom, and are fighting a larger battle on our behalf, a battle that all of us need to join.

@SynNightfall @ArbiterSkyward Perfectly good passage
But we're discussing so called Christians, so something else applies:

1 Cor 5: 12-13
"What business is it of mine to judge those outside the church? Are you not to judge those inside? God will judge those outside. 'Expel the wicked man from among you.'"

AoC | HoP | Nightfall
@SynNightfall

@CForce3000 @ArbiterSkyward Jesus does the judging, we need to be calm before we speak and kind to those we disagree with

"Do not judge, or you too will be judged.
For in the same way you judge others, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you.
Matt. 7: 1-5

@johnpavlovitz

We don't need a hand recount of all swing states, we just need one.
If the results of that effort yield no great disparities, then fine.
If they do, we need a #SwingStateHandRecount and I'll gladly donate.
It's irresponsible to simply allow fascism to take over unchallenged.

RT @eyeslasho: Fox News contributor Ben Domenech weighs in on Matt Gaetz and commits a brutal murder.

> I realize that we are occasionally given to hyperbole about the untoward nature of politicians, but let me be clear: Matt Gaetz is a sex trafficking drug addicted piece of shit. He is abhorrent. His eyes are permanently rimmed with the red rings of chemical boosters. In person, he smells like overexposed Axe Body Spray and stale Astroglide. The fact that he boasted on the floor to multiple colleagues in the House of Representatives of his methods of crushing Viagra and high test Red Bull to maintain his erection through his orgiastic evenings is perhaps the least offensive of his many crimes against womanhood and Christian faith. The man has less principles than your average fentanyl addicted hobo. He likes them underage and he's not ashamed about it. Matt Gaetz isn't just your average extreme Florida MAGA Man, he's a hypocritical ass with the worst Botox money can buy, pursuing an ever-thinner nose and higher cheekbones at every opportunity like a Real Housewife gone mad for fillers. Every Republican in Washington has an opinion about Matt Gaetz, and 99 percent of those opinions are "keep Matt Gaetz away from my wife/daughter/friend and anyone I care about."

Republicans against Trump @RpsAgainstTrump

Trump's pick to lead the Department of Health and Human Services said during the campaign that he would stop research on drug development and infectious diseases for 8 years.

What could possibly go wrong?
